Victor, do you have access to back issues of Radio Communications magazine?
(the excellent RSGB journal).

Look up Rad Comm Sept '84 where on pages 755-758, Steve Price, G4BWE describes a switched-capacitor filter using the CD4066 quad bilateral switch. I did not build this project, so cannot offer any recommendation, although I believe some of the earlier designs suffered from "aliasing" problems.

Does anyone know of any TH-28A hacks, you know like gettin' more frequencies?

Please email them to me.

Thanks,
